

斯科特·马涅奇博士
Scott Manetsch, Ph.D.

马涅奇教授自 2000 年起就任教于三一神学院，负责教会历史和神学思想史的教导。他热衷的研究领域包括更正教的改教运动，加尔文和改革宗神学，教牧历史，以及近代前期的圣经诠释。

马涅奇教授的著作包括：Theodore Beza and the Quest for Peace in France (Brill, 2000), The Great Commission (with Martin Klauber; B & H, 2008), Calvin's Company of Pastors (Oxford, 2013), and the Reformation Commentary on Scripture: 1 Corinthians (InterVarsity, 2017). 同时，他也是 Reformation Commentary on Scripture 丛书的副主编，以及 Christ on Campus Initiative 的编辑。

他和他的太太 (Catherine)，以及大女儿 (Hannah)、小女儿 (Melissa) 住在芝加哥北郊。

Scott Manetsch is Professor of Church History and the History of Christian Thought at Trinity Evangelical Divinity School, where he has served since 2000. His research interests include the Protestant Reformation, Calvin and Calvinism, the history of the pastoral office, and early modern biblical interpretation. Dr. Manetsch has authored or edited a number of books, including Theodore Beza and the Quest for Peace in France (Brill, 2000), The Great Commission (with Martin Klauber; B & H, 2008), Calvin's Company of Pastors (Oxford, 2013), and the Reformation Commentary on Scripture: 1 Corinthians (InterVarsity, 2017). He is also the associate general editor of the Reformation Commentary on Scripture (InterVarsity Press) and the editor-secretary of the Christ on Campus Initiative (see christoncampuscci.org).

Professor Manetsch and his wife Catherine live in Libertyville, Illinois (USA) with their two daughters, Hannah and Melissa.